Disk Hero announces a new “MSI Installer” for Resellers and Small Businesses

Dublin, CA, May 30, 2008 – Disk Hero has announced a new fast install process for resellers and small business accounts. This installer allows the administrators to choose between 4 options of how Disk Hero will operate on the end users PC. Such options included are: application password protection, private labeled, and is the end user allowed to delete files at all. What this new MSI allows is an emailed file sent to end users and they open it and mark files for backup. Then all management of the account is done in the administrator’s web portal.

This makes the implementation of Disk Hero across many system fast and efficient where an end user spend 2 minutes marking files for backup and the administrators do not need to get access to each remote PC through programs like pcAnywhere or Logmein.

If all users are on the same domain then the MSI can be dispersed without the end user needing to do anything on their PC. Great time saver for administrator’s.
